Pac-12 Preseason Poll

Colorado received 20 points to finish second in the 2022 Pac-12 Lacrosse Preseason Coaches Poll the conference office announced Monday.

The Buffaloes, who were third in the 2021 regular season standings and advanced to the conference tournament championship for the third straight year, earned one of the six first-place votes.

The reigning conference champion, Stanford, received four first-place votes to record 24 points to finish first in the poll. Arizona State earned the other first-place vote (17 points) and was third in the poll, while USC finished fourth (15). California placed fifth with eight points and Oregon was sixth with six points.

Coaches are not allowed to vote for their teams.

THE SERIES HISTORY

- This is just the second meeting between the two teams.
- The first was the 2021, which was the season opener for both teams.
- It was also the home opener for Louisville.
- The Cardinals won the contest, 12-9.
- This will be the first meeting in Boulder and is the season opener for both teams.

COLORADO NOTES

Quickly: The Buffaloes open their ninth season on February 11 against Louisville. This is the second meeting between the two schools and it is the first time the two have met in Boulder.

- This meeting marks the second straight season the two teams open the season against each other. CU traveled to Louisville to open the 2021 slate against the Cardinals.

Last Meeting Vs. Louisville: Colorado opened its 2021 season against UL and fell, 12-9, on the road.

- The Cardinals led the Buffs 8-4 at halftime. With 17:35 left in the second half, the Buffs were back within two goals (10-8), but UL outscored CU in the rest of the game 2-1, to take the season opener.

- Sadie Grozier had four goals in the effort, including three straight in the second half to bring the Buffs within two.

- CU led in draw controls (13-10) and saves (12-9).

Fifth-Year Players: CU has five fifth-year players on its roster this season and four of those athletes, Devon Bayer, Sadie Grozier, Macaul Mellor and Aine Williams played the previous four seasons for the Buffs.

- Sam McGee is a fifth-year player from Saint Joseph's. An attacker the previous four seasons for the Hawks.

Looking for 100: Senior Charlie Rudy finished her junior season just shy of 100 career goals. She currently has 91 goals and looks to become the sixth player in CU history to reach the 100 goal milestone.

Home Openers: Colorado has a 6-2 record in home openers.

- CU won its very first home game (against Regis) on Feb. 22, 2014, defeating the Rangers 13-10. The Buffs also defeated Denver in Boulder to start the 2016 season and in 2017, the Buffs knocked off No. 9 Northwestern.

- In 2018, the Buffs defeated San Diego State, 17-12, on Feb. 25, to open the 2018 season at home.

- CU defeated Denver 14-7 to open the 2021 season on Feb. 28.

Season Openers: The Buffs are 4-4 in season openers.

- CU has only opened the season at home twice in eight years; the 2022 opener will be the third time opening the season at home.

Home Sweet Home: Since the start in 2014, Kittredge Field has been the home of the Buffs.

- In that time, the Buffs have recorded a 41-11 record there (.789).

- In 2017, CU recorded a perfect 7-0 record at Kitt. (They played one home game at the Indoor Practice Facility due to a wildfire and won that for a perfect 8-0 record in Boulder.)

- The Buffs were also 7-0 at Kitt Field in 2018.

- CU was 3-0 in 2020 after recording a 3-5 mark in 2019.

- The Buffs finished 2021 with a 4-1 record at Kitt and were 5-1 at home having played one game at the IPF.

- Colorado is 45-13 (.778) in Boulder, which includes games played at Folsom Field (1-0), Indoor Practice Facility (2-1) and Prentup Field (1-1).

IPF Games:

- Occasionally Colorado needs to play indoors due to weather or other circumstances and when that happens, the Buffs look to the Indoor Practice Facility.

- The Buffs have played three games in the Indoor Practice Facility and sport a 2-1 record there.

- The first game was a 16-11 win against Oregon on March 19, 2017.

- CU was set to play the Ducks there a second time on March 12, 2021, but that game was canceled due to COVID-19 protocols within the UO program.

- Most recently on March 14, 2021, the Buffs defeated San Diego State, 14-5, in the IPF.

Unbeaten In Conference (By Conference Opponents):

- Out of the five Pac-12 teams (not including CU), the Buffaloes have never lost to Oregon.

- Colorado has been playing Oregon since 2014 when the two were MPSF rivals. In that time, CU has recorded an 11-0 record against the Ducks.

- The two did not play during the 2021 season. Oregon had to cancel each time the two were scheduled to play due to COVID-19 protocols within the program.

- Before leaving the MPSF for the Pac-12, CU never lost to four other then-conference opponents: UC Davis (4-0), Fresno State (4-0), St. Mary's (4-0) and San Diego State (8-0).

- Since leaving the MPSF, CU has still not lost to any of those four MPSF opponents.

Conference Openers: CU is 5-3 in conference openers combined since 2014.

HEAD COACH ANN ELLIOTT WHIDDEN

Ann Elliott Whidden is in her ninth season as the head coach at Colorado and has compiled an 87-47 record (.635) in that time.

She has been recognized twice as the IWLCA West/Midwest Region Coach of the Year (2017 and '18) and was the 2018 Pac-12 Coach of the Year and 2017 MPSF Coach of the Year. In addition, she was selected to be an assistant coach for the 2019 U.S. U20 Team which won gold, defeating Canada 13-3 at the world championship.

Whidden was hired as CU's first-ever head lacrosse coach on March 26, 2012, just short of two months after the school officially added the program.

In her eight years as the leader of the program, the Buffaloes have thrived. Besides an impressive overall record, she has guided the team to a 47-16 mark in conference play, which includes a 9-1 record during the inaugural Pac-12 season in 2018. With that mark, the Buffs became the first-ever regular season Pac-12 Lacrosse Champions.

Under Whidden's guidance, the Buffs have become a nationally recognized lacrosse program, doing so very quickly since the program started in 2014. In the first four years of competition, the Buffs finished in the top four of the MPSF, which included a second-place finish in 2017.

Then in 2018, the fifth year of the program, CU won the inaugural Pac-12 Conference regular season championship. During the 2019 season, the Buffs recorded their third straight NCAA Tournament berth and advanced to the second round for the second straight year. CU has always finished over .500. The Buffs were 3-2 in 2020 when the season was cut short due to the Covid-19 pandemic and in 2021 with a few games canceled due to Covid protocols within other programs, CU recorded an 8-7 mark.

Under her leadership, several players have earned numerous honors in the program's history, including Julia Lisella, who was named the 2018 IWLCA Goalkeeper of the Year. Four of her athletes have combined for six IWLCA All-America honors. Sarah Brown and Lisella were the first two players to earn first team honors (2018); Brown was also a second team honoree in 2017. Darby Kiernan was also a two-time All-American, earning second team honors in 2018 and third team honors in 2017. Paige Soenksen was the fourth Buff to record the prestigious award as a member of the third team in 2017.

Additionally, Whidden's athletes have recorded 18 all-region and 34 all-conference honors, as well as 18 conference all-tournament selections. In eight seasons, CU has earned 45 weekly conference awards. CU has also earned the Pac-12 Defender of the Year (Brown, 2018 and Lisella, 2021) and the Pac-12 Attacker of the Year (Miranda Stinson, 2019).

The Buffs broke into the national rankings to start the 2017 season and finished that campaign with a school-record 16 wins. They advanced to the NCAA for the first time in the program's short history and were ranked as high as fourth in all three major polls.

CU went on to record a 14-6 mark in 2018 and achieved more success. The Buffs advanced to their second straight NCAA Tournament and won their first NCAA Tournament game with a 23-18 victory against Jacksonville. During the 2019 campaign, the Buffs recorded an 11-8 record, which included an 8-2 mark in Pac-12 play. They advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second time, which also marked their third straight trip to the national championship.

The Buffs have been a force at home, recording a 44-13 mark in Boulder, which includes a 41-11 at Kirtledge Field. CU recorded 19 straight home wins from 2016-18, which is tied for the fifth in NCAA history and included an 8-0 record in 2017.

Academically, the Buffs have performed well in the classroom. They received the IWLCA Team Academic Honor Squad award five straight years (they were not eligible in their first season and it was not awarded in 2020) and earned it for the sixth time in 2021. 14 of CU's athletes have been named to the IWLCA Academic Honor Roll for 19 overall selections. Numerous athletes have earned spots on the MPSF and Pac-12 Academic teams as well.

Despite the 2020 campaign ending after five games due to the pandemic, CU recorded its seventh straight season with a winning mark at 3-2, which included a 1-0 Pac-12 record. In the final two games of the season against Oregon (3/6) and Coastal Carolina (3/8), the Buffs recorded 40 goals. They recorded a school single-conference game record with 21 goals against Oregon and followed it up with another 19 goals against CCU. The 40 goals tied for the second-most goals in back-to-back games for the Buffs since 2017. Sophomore Charlie Rudy was named the Pac-12 Player of the Week following those games after recording 12 goals and four assists, which included tying a school-record eight goals against CCU.

During the 2019 season, Whidden guided the Buffs to an 11-8 overall record, which included an 8-2 mark in Pac-12 play. CU finished second in conference play and was second at the Pac-12 Tournament. All eight losses came at the hands of ranked opponents. CU's defense ranked 23rd in the nation, allowing just 10.26 goals per game. The Buffs averaged 9.68 caused turnovers per game, the 32nd best mark in the NCAA. They ranked 11th overall in turnovers with just 13.68 per game.

In 2018, CU was solid on offense and defense. The Buffs were 26th in scoring offense (14.00) and held their opponents to 9.90 goals per game, which was 17th in the NCAA. In conference play, CU's 14.00 goals per game ranked second. Defensively, CU ranked second in save percentage (.482).

The Buffs won the inaugural regular season Pac-12 Championship in 2018 with a 9-1 record. Their only loss in league play was in overtime at Southern California (8-7). CU earned the top-seed in the Pac-12 Tournament, defeating Oregon 16-6 in the second round. The Buffs fell in the championship game to Stanford, after defeating the Cardinal twice during the regular season. CU's season continued as the Buffs earned an at-large bid to their second straight NCAA Tournament. The Buffs defeated Jacksonville, 23-18, in the first round, which was CU's first-ever tournament win, before Florida defeated the Buffs in the second round, 13-9.

HEAD COACH ANN ELLIOTT WHIDDEN

CU was again strong defensively in 2017, as well as offensively. The Buffs finished the campaign ranked third nationally in scoring defense (8.10) and were sixth in scoring margin (+6.35) and turnovers per game (13.95). The 16-4 mark for the season gave CU a .800 win percentage, which was tied for the eighth-best in the NCAA.

The Buffs also recorded their first wins against ranked opponents during the campaign, which included a huge 11-10 overtime win against No. 9 Northwestern on Feb. 12 to open the season. CU went on to defeat three other ranked teams: No. 16 UMass (11-7), No. 14 Denver (14-3) and No. 6 Penn State (16-11).

The 2016 season was another big step in the right direction. CU won a then-school-record 13 games, going 13-5 overall and finishing third in the MPSF with a 7-2 conference mark. The Buffs reached the semifinals of the conference tournament, defeating Oregon 11-3 in the first round. All five losses during the season came to teams ranked in the top 10 nationally and the Buffaloes received votes in both the IWLCA and the Inside Lacrosse top-20 polls several times during the year.

Defense was again an emphasis for the Buffs, who ranked second in the MPSF and seventh nationally in scoring defense (7.00). They also were second in the MPSF and eighth in the nation in scoring margin (+5.61 goals per game). Offensively, CU ranked third in the MPSF and 14th in the country in scoring (12.61) and the team's .722 winning percentage was the 14th-best in the country.

Despite the excellent season on both ends of the field, CU was left out of the 26-team NCAA Tournament field. The Buffs faced six teams during the year that were selected to the postseason, including James Madison, which they defeated 15-14 in overtime on March 3.

Five Buffs were selected All-MPSF at the end of the season. Marie Moore, Darby Kiernan and Sarah Brown were first-team selections, while Johnna Fusco and Paige Soenksen were named to the second team. Moore and Brown were both second team all-region picks by the IWLCA.

In 2015, Colorado earned a No. 4 seed at the MPSF Tournament and defeated San Diego State 15-6 to advance to the semifinals for a second straight year. The Buffs dominated at home, posting a 6-2 record at Kittredge Field.

Prior to joining Colorado, Whidden was a major force at powerhouse Northwestern. After an astounding collegiate career, she returned to her alma mater as an assistant coach ahead of the 2009 season. Before the start of the 2012 season, she became the first to ever be promoted to the associate level. As a player and aide under Kelly Amonte Hiller, who is considered to be one of the nation's top coaches and recruiters, Whidden and Northwestern appeared in the NCAA title game seven times, winning six titles, including three as a player and three as a member of the staff.

After graduating from Northwestern with a bachelor's degree in radio, television and film in 2007, Whidden served as the head coach of the Wildcat Elite Club and the Wildcat Developmental Team for Amonte Sports. She also spent one season as an assistant coach for New Trier High School, helping the Trevians to the 2008 state championship.

She was also actively involved in Amonte Sports since her playing days at Northwestern, serving as a camp counselor as well as heading the development of New Wave lacrosse clinics for the organization and WomensLax.com, coordinating youth and high school clinics across the country. She also utilized her major, doing extensive work in video production for Amonte.

Primarily a defender during her collegiate career, she played in 72 games, including starts in 63 of a possible 64 her sophomore through senior years, all NCAA championship seasons. As a senior and team captain in 2007, she was an Inside Lacrosse third-team All-America selection when she was a key member of a defensive unit that allowed an NCAA-low 6.1 goals per game, with opponents scoring in double figures only twice. She played an important role on Northwestern's 2005, 2006 and 2007 national championship teams, scoring 14 goals, causing 44 turnovers and scooping up 101 ground balls. She earned four varsity letters and was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten team member.

Whidden was a four-year letter-winner in lacrosse at Ohio's Shaker Heights High, where she set a school record with 278 ground balls. She had 115 goals, 50 assists, 114 caused turnovers and 99 draw controls in her prep career.

Whidden was a two-time All-America and first-team all-state selection, helping lead the Raiders to two state championships and four consecutive seasons of undefeated conference play. As a senior, she was the team captain and was named the Northeast Ohio Defender of the Year. Whidden also played goalie for the Ohio Flames ice hockey club team, which finished second at nationals in 2002, and lettered one year as a goalie on OSHH's field hockey team.

Whidden married Nick Whidden in 2017. The couple resides in Boulder with their daughter, Skylar, and son, Daniel.
