QUICK KICKS

INSIDE THE SERIES

Tuesday's contest will be the eighth all-time meeting between the two programs, as they will be battling for the second time in the last four seasons. Belmont has faced off with Louisville on the road in each of its last three matches. The last time the Bruins and Cardinals met on Oct. 4, 2016, Louisville logged a 6-0 victory at home. Overall, Belmont still holds a 2-2-0 all-time record against ACC opponents other than the Cardinals.

SCOUTING LOUISVILLE

The Cardinals are led by first-year head coach John Michael Hayden, who has propelled Louisville to a 4-2-2 start to the 2019 season. Three of the Cardinals four wins this season have come against ranked opponents, as their most recent win came against No. 2 ranked Georgetown last Tuesday. Last season, Louisville finished with an 11-5-3 record and captured the 2018 ACC Men's Soccer Championship.

E.S. ROSE PARK

Belmont University has partnered with Nashville's Metro Board of Parks and Recreation to provide $8 million worth of enhancements to nearby E.S. Rose Park which would also allow the University to lease space for athletics. Rose Park opened for play in April 2011.

With a majestic view of the downtown Nashville skyline, the enhancements at Rose Park provide new resources for the Edgehill community and Belmont student-athletes including accessible walking trails and softball, baseball, track and soccer fields.

The Metro Parks Board will maintain the exclusive authority to schedule the use of the park and will remain the sole owner of the park and its improvements. Utilizing the new sports fields and their accompanying concessions will be neighbors from the Edgehill community, athletic teams from nearby public schools, the youth and adult recreational programs of Metro Parks, neighborhood churches, community groups, nonprofit sports organizations and Belmont University.

HEAD COACH DAVID COSTA

Belmont University Director of Athletics Scott Corley announced Dec. 27, 2018 the hiring of David Costa as the fifth head men's soccer coach in program history.

"I am excited to welcome David and his family into the Bruin family," Corley said. "David brings a background of winning throughout his distinguished career, all while coaching at institutions with similar academic and athletic profiles to Belmont. Yet, what stood out most in visiting with David - and talking with others in the industry - was that he is a man of high character and a strong leader of men. David is clearly ready to become a head coach at the NCAA Division I level, and I look forward to supporting him in building a successful men's soccer program at Belmont."

Costa comes to Belmont after spending the past two seasons as associate head coach at Xavier University. In that short time, the Musketeers earned results against eight nationally-ranked opponents and reached the Big East Championship match.

The North Carolina native spent the previous six seasons as the top assistant at NC State. Costa helped the Wolfpack earn results over the likes Wake Forest, Louisville, Virginia, Notre Dame, North Carolina, Duke, Virginia Tech and Boston College, among others.

His career took off as part of another Big East Conference stronghold, Butler. During his five campaigns with the Bulldogs, the program ascended to a No. 5 national ranking and a program-record 18 vicories in 2010.

"I am honored to become the Head Coach at Belmont University," Costa said. "I would like to thank my wife, Meghan, for her support, as well Dr. Fisher, Scott Corley, and the search committee for the opportunity to lead the men's soccer program. There are so many great people at Belmont. Throughout this process it was clear that there is a strong commitment from the University to partner with coaches and invest in the lives of student-athletes. It is our collective ambition to provide them an experience that will last long beyond their college years. I look forward to getting started with the staff and team."

Costa has coached three players currently on Major League Soccer rosters: 2016 MLS Defender of the Year Matt Hedges (FC Dallas), Nazmi Albadawi (FC Cincinnati) and Conor Donovan (Houston Dynamo).

Beyond his extensive collegiate experience, Costa has served in several prominent roles with youth soccer programs, including time as the head coach for Carmel (IN) United. Costa was named 2008 and 2010 U.S. Soccer Development Academy Central Conference Coach of the Year and the 2008 National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Midwest Regional Coach of the Year.

In addition, Costa was a four-year letterwinner at UNC Charlotte, helping the 49er program to the 2003 Conference USA championship match. Costa also received the David Schlee Memorial Award, given for determination and desire to succeed as a member of the Charlotte men's soccer program.

THE WALL

Junior goalkeeper Nicolo Dini is just four saves away from logging the eighth-most career saves in Belmont men's soccer history. Dini currently has 140 career saves, which is good for ninth behind Bruins alumnus Grayson Rector (2013-16). Dini is tied for the most shutouts in the Southern Conference this season behind JR DeRose of Mercer and has the third best goals against average in the conference (1.57).

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING

The Bruins received a handful of firsts in their victory over Faulkner on Saturday. Junior midfielder Jack Shaw logged his first-career goal, sophomore defender Brett Royster notched his first-career assist and junior forward Jordan Dozzi recorded his first-ever two-assist match at Belmont.

CAREER MILESTONE FOR COSTA

Belmont head coach David Costa registered his first victory as a head coach on Saturday, Aug. 21, with a 2-0 shutout victory at home over Presbyterian.

ROAD WARRIORS

The Bruins hit the road for their final non-conference road tilt of the season Tuesday at Louisville. In total, Belmont has been on the road for seven of its first 10 matches to start the season.

SHOOT YOUR SHOT

Sophomore forward Niccolo Dagnoni leads Belmont in shots (29) and shots on goal (14) to start the 2019 season. Dagnoni is the top shot leader in the Southern Conference this season with an average of 3.22 shots per match.

SPREADING THE WEALTH

Eight different players have scored Belmont's 11 goals to start the 2019 season. Sophomore forward Pablo Martin Virgilio, junior midfielder Esteban Lestido, sophomore forward Liam O'Brien, junior midfielder Jack Shaw, sophomore forward Ares Marlonsson and freshman midfielder Corey Lavinder have all found the back of the net. Sophomore forward Niccolo Dagnoni (3) and junior forward Jordan Dozzi (2) are the only repeat goal-scorers for the Bruins.

ON A ROLL

The striking duo of junior forward Jordan Dozzi and sophomore forward Niccolo Dagnoni have combined for four goals and six assists in the last three matches. The tandem has 16 of Belmont's 32 points this season.

BARRAGE OF GOALS

The Bruins four-goal onslaught against Faulkner on Saturday came as the most in a game for Belmont since Aug. 27, 2017, when they notched a 6-1 win at home over Niagara.

EASY ON THE WHISTLES

The Bruins have only been whistled for offsides eight times through nine matches to begin the 2019 season. Only the Mercer Bears have less offsides calls (5) than Belmont in the Southern Conference this season. The Bruins and the Bears are the only Southern Conference teams with single-digit offsides calls.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Belmont has already faced two teams who appeared in the 2018 NCAA Tournament: The Central Arkansas Bears (exhibition) and the Georgia State Panthers. The Bruins also have another pair of 2018 tournament teams on deck: The Louisville Cardinals and the Furman Paladins.

HITTING STRIDE

The Bruins have scored eight of their 11 goals this season in the last three matches against Presbyterian, Eastern Illinois and Faulkner. Belmont has also tallied seven or more shots on goal in its past three matchups and 10 or more shots in four of its last five contests.

TWO-HEADED MONSTER

Junior midfielder Esteban Lestido and sophomore forward Niccolo Dagnoni lead the Bruins with a combined 45 shots and 22 shots on goal this season. Lestido has already logged career-highs in both categories, as Dagnoni surpassed his career-high shots on goal mark of 11 last season and is currently tied for a career-high in shots (29).

HOME DOMINANCE

The Bruins tallied their second-consecutive win at E.S. Rose Park with a 4-1 rout of Faulkner on Saturday. The victory boosted Belmont's record to 2-1-0 at home this season.

FAMILIAR FOE

Belmont has played 11 matches against ACC opponents since the establishment of the soccer program in 1994. Seven of those 11 contests have come against the Louisville Cardinals. Overall, the Bruins hold an even 2-2-0 all-time record against ACC opponents other than the Cardinals.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVERS

16 Belmont men's soccer players earned 2018-19 Southern Conference Academic Honor Roll. The current Belmont student-athletes that were honored included: Sam Borgel, Niccolo Dagnoni, Creaghan Diekema, Nicolo Dini, Nigel Leo, Esteban Lestido, Ares Marlonsson, Cameron Petty and Brett Royster.

DISHING IT OUT

The Bruins have logged the third-most assists (10) in the Southern Conference this season. Belmont is also one of three teams in the conference with 10 or more assists on the year.

TRANSFER HARDWARE

Costa and Belmont staff added an abundance of transfer talent heading into the 2019 season. Among the transfers are Jordan Dozzi, Marius Svendsen, Jack Shaw, Kyle Barks and JP Armbruster, who each have hardware from their previous stops. Dozzi, a native of Australia, helped Peninsula Power FC of the Queensland Premier League to an undefeated 23-0-1 season and a league championship in 2018. The Power posted a goal differential of plus-91 in its unbeaten season. At Herkimer Community College, Svendsen logged back-to-back seasons with USC All-American nominations. He also won Mountain Valley Conference Player of the Year and helped Herkimer to a third-place finish in the NJCAA National Championship. Shaw, who played the first two years of his collegiate career at Wisconsin, helped the Badgers to their first Big Ten Tournament title and NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in over 20 years in 2017. Barks (Indiana) notched a Big Ten Tournament title and a NCAA College Cup appearance with the Hoosiers in 2018. Last but not least, JP Armbruster was a part of Louisville's 2018 ACC Tournament championship team last season.

LETHAL TANDEM

Belmont is bringing back two of their most prolific playmakers from the 2018 season, forwards Ares Marlonsson and Niccolo Dagnoni. The sophomore duo each competed in all 18 matches for the Bruins last season, logging a combined 23 points on the pitch. Marlonsson is coming off a 2018 season of four goals, five assists and .500 shot on goal percentage. Dagnoni logged a team-high 29 shots in his freshman season and tacked on three goals and four assists. Marlonsson and Dagnoni lead all returning Belmont players in goals, shots on goal, shots, points and assists. Marlonsson also finished inside the top 10 in the Southern Conference for assists and points in the 2018 season.

MUSIC CITY HOMECOMING

Nashville native JP Armbruster is returning to his hometown to play under head coach David Costa at Belmont as a sophomore. He spent the first half of his collegiate career at Louisville, where he was a part of the 2018 ACC Championship team. Armbruster graduated from Father Ryan High School, where he lettered in each of his four years, earning all-state and all-midstate honors. He was named as a part of the TeamSnap All-Region team in his senior year of high school, and also tallied a pair of state championships at the Tennessee Soccer Club and Nashville FC. Armbruster's uncle was a part of the inaugural Bruins soccer team in 1991.

BRUINS AT A GLANCE

The Bruins have 22 players from 17 different home countries and states. Just three players on the roster are in-state: recent transfer JP Armbruster, sophomore goalkeeper Cameron Petty and freshman midfielder Corey Lavinder. Belmont has international players from five countries (three continents), including Colombia, Australia, Norway, Italy and Spain.

REMEMBERING SUSE

Eric Susewind's name is still revered in the Nashville soccer community today, not only for his phenomenal talent, but because of the compassion he showed for people. His mission was to make the sport of soccer accessible to all, regardless of their socio-economic background. Susewind tragically passed away at the age of 28 in an automobile accident southeast of Nashville on June 16, 2013. He was a four-year letterwinner in his decorated soccer career for Belmont, received second team All-Atlantic Sun honors twice, and served as team captain for the Bruins from 2004-07. He also remains fifth all-time in the Bruins record book for assists in a season (5).

Susewind joined nearby Cumberland University's women's soccer program as a coach in 2012. The Houston, Texas native also served as a youth coach at the Tennessee Soccer Club and other surrounding youth soccer organizations. His memory still lives on through the Eric Susewind Memorial Scholarship Fund,, which serves Nashville's underprivileged and refugee communities, giving hundreds of young players the opportunity to learn and play the game of soccer.

SOCON SUPERLATIVES

The Belmont men's soccer program was tabbed to finish fifth in the 2019 SoCon preseason coaches' poll. In addition, sophomore Niccolo Dagnoni was featured on the preseason all-conference team for the Bruins. Dagnoni posted three goals, four assists and finished second on the team in shots on goal in 2018. After raking in a postseason all-freshman selection last year, Dagnoni has now received conference honors for the second consecutive season. The Bruins will be entering year two in the SoCon under first-year head coach David Costa, as Belmont looks to expand upon its conference quarterfinals run in 2018.

DINI MAKES HISTORY

Junior goalkeeper Nicolo Dini etched his name in the Belmont soccer record book with 77 saves in the 2018 season. Last season, Dini officially notched the 10th-most saves in Bruins history and the second-most in program history in over a decade. He still holds the eighth-best goals against average (1.48) in Belmont history from his 2017 freshman campaign. Dini also owns the seventh-most minutes played by a goalie in Bruins history with 3,038.

MAJOR LEAGUE MINDSET

The Belmont soccer coaching staff has extensive connections to Major League Soccer and the professional soccer landscape. Assistant coach Tom Heinemann logged 224 matches and racked up 57 goals and 199 assists in his professional career, which included stops with Vancouver Whitecaps FC and Columbus Crew SC. In 2010, he helped the United Soccer League's Charleston Battery to a league championship and led the league in assists. Heinemann was also the USL Championship MVP in 2010. In addition, head coach David Costa has formerly coached 2016 MLS Defender of the Year Matt Hedges (FC Dallas), Nazmi Albadawi (FC Cincinnati) and Conor Donovan (Houston Dynamo).

ALUM JOINS BELMONT STAFF

After a decorated career as a student-athlete, former Belmont University men's soccer defender Anthony Torres is returning to the sidelines as the director of player development for the program. The former defensive stalwart will help the new players acclimate to college soccer and the Bruin style of play. Torres, a four-year letter winner in Nashville, started over 50 games during his tenure as a Bruin. After a strong three seasons, the defender put together his best all-around campaign as senior in 2015 as he earned Second Team All-Horizon League Team honors. Torres ranked second in the club with 1,731 minutes played his senior campaign.

GOING THROUGH CHANGES

Including David Costa at Belmont, the Southern Conference has five first or second-year head coaches going into the 2019 season. This includes Chris Rich (UNC Greensboro), Charlie Hubbard (VMI), Joel Tyson (Wofford), David Casper (ETSU) and Costa. The two most-tenured coaches in the SoCon are Brad Ruzzo (Mercer, 12 years) and Doug Allison (Furman, 24 years).
