ABOUT THE BUFFS: The No. 24 Colorado Buffaloes will start the 2021 lacrosse season on the road this week, facing a pair of non-conference opponents.

They will start the season on Thursday, February 18, against the University of Louisville in Louisville, Ky., at 1 p.m. MT/3 p.m. ET, before traveling to Nashville, Tennessee, for a 10 a.m. MT/12 p.m. ET contest on February 21, against Vanderbilt University. This will be the first time CU has met either opponent and is the sixth tie in program history the Buffs are starting the campaign away from home.

ABOUT LOUISVILLE: The Cardinals recorded a 5-4 record in 2020. They started the season last weekend against No. 14 Florida, falling 14-7 in their home-opener. The Cardinals scored four goals in the first half and another three in the second half, but allowed the Gators to score seven in half. Caroline Blalock led UL with two goals and five other Cardinals scored one goal. Blalock also recorded both of UL's assists.

Rachel Florek played all 60:00 minutes in goal, allowing 14 goals; but she also made 14 stops. UL had seven caused turnovers in the contest and once again it was Blalock leading the team (3). Florida had a slight advantage on draw controls, winning 13 of 23.

HOW TO WATCH: The game will be streamed on ESPN, but a login is needed. Links to the live stream and live stats are available at CUBuffs.com.

ABOUT VANDERBILT: The Commodores were 4-5 in 2020 and are 0-1 to start the 2021 season after falling to No. 2 Notre Dame last weekend, 19-5. VU was limited to just one goal in the first half and four in the second. ND recorded seven in the first frame and another 12 in the second. All five of VU's goals came from a different player.

Paige Gunning spent 58:07 in net and allowed 17 goals while making 12 saves. Lexie de Roziere gave up two goals and did not make any saves in the remaining 1:53. As a team, VU recorded eight caused turnovers with Melissa Hawkins's leading the Commodores with two. They were also close to ND in draw controls, winning 11, while ND won the other 15.

HOW TO WATCH: The game will be streamed on YouTube. Links to the live stream and live stats are available at CUBuffs.com.

UP NEXT: The Buffs will host Denver on Sunday, February 28, in Boulder at 1 p.m.

Pac-12 Preseason Poll

Colorado and Southern California each recorded 22 points to tie for first in the 2021 Pac-12 Women's Lacrosse Preseason Coaches Poll, as announced by the league's office on Feb. 11.

Both teams also earned three first-place nods. Behind the duo in third is Stanford, which collected 18 points. Arizona State placed fourth in the voting (13), while Oregon came in fifth (8). California rounded out the poll at sixth (7). Coaches are not allowed to vote for their own teams.

There was no regular-season champion or tournament in 2020 as the campaign was canceled in March. USC won the 2019 regular-season title (9-1) as well as the 2019 tournament championship while CU was second in the regular season (8-2) while placing second in the tournament that same year.

COLORADO NOTES

Season Openers

- The Buffs are 4-3 in season openers.
- This will be the sixth time CU has opened the season away from Boulder.

Returning All-American

- Julia Lisella was the only returning All-American for the Buffs. She was named to the IWLCA First Team and was tabbed the IWLCA and Inside Lacrosse Goalkeeper of the Year following the 2018 season.

Scoring Streaks

- Charlie Rudy and Liz Phillips carry over a five-game point-streak from the 2020 season into Thursday's game against Louisville.
- Rudy scored a team-high 20 goals through five games in 2020. She also added four assists.
- Phillips recorded nine points, four goals and five assists in 2020.

Unbeaten In Conference (By Conference Opponents)

- Out of the five Pac-12 teams (not including CU), the Buffaloes have never lost to Arizona State and Oregon.
- ASU joined the league in 2018 and CU is 4-0 against the Sun Devils.
- Colorado has been playing Oregon since 2014 when the two were MPSF rivals. In that time, CU has recorded an 11-0 record against the Ducks.
- Before leaving the MPSF for the Pac-12, CU never lost to four other then-conference opponents: UC Davis (4-0), Fresno State (4-0), St. Mary's (4-0) and San Diego State (7-0).

Home Sweet Home

- Kittredge Field has been the home of the Buffs since their inaugural season in 2014.
- In that time, the Buffs have recorded a 36-10 record there (.783).
- They were 5-2 in 2014, 6-2 in 2015 and 6-1 in 2016.
- In 2017, CU recorded a perfect 7-0 record at Kitt. (They played one home game at the Indoor Practice Facility due to a wild fire and won that for a perfect 8-0 record in Boulder.)
- The Buffs were also 7-0 at Kittredge Field in 2018.
- CU is 3-0 to start the 2020 season at Kitt after recording a 3-5 mark in 2019.
- Colorado is 39-12 in Boulder, which includes games played at Folsom Field (1-0), Indoor Practice Facility (1-1) and Prentup Field (1-1).

Conference Openers

- CU is 5-2 in conference openers combined.
- The Buffaloes did well in MPSF openers, going 2-2.
- CU defeated Stanford 18-16 in 2018 in the first ever Pac-12 game and then won the Pac-12 opener against the Cardinal, 20-13, on March 8.
- The Buffs improved to 3-0 in Pac-12 openers with a 21-5 victory over Oregon on March 6.

Home Openers

- Colorado is 4-2 in home openers.
- CU won its very first home game (against Regis) on Feb. 22, defeating the Rangers 13-10. The Buffs also defeated Denver in Boulder to start the 2016 season and in 2017, the Buffs knocked off No. 9 Northwestern.
- In 2018, the Buffs defeated San Diego State, 17-12, on Feb. 25, to open the 2018 season at home.
- Florida defeated the Buffs 16-9 in 2019 to open the season at Kittredge.

HEAD COACH ANN ELLIOTT WHIDDEN

Ann Elliott Whidden is in her seventh season as the head coach at Colorado and has compiled a 76-38 record (.667) in that time.

She has been recognized twice as the IWLCA West/Midwest Region Coach of the Year (2017 and '18), and was the 2018 Pac-12 Coach of the Year and 2017 MPSF Coach of the Year. In addition, she was selected to be an assistant coach for the 2019 U.S. U20 Team which won gold, defeating Canada 13-3 at the world championship.

Whidden was hired as CU's first-ever head lacrosse coach on March 26, 2012, just short of two months after the school officially added the program.

In her six years as the leader of the program, the Buffaloes have thrived. Besides an impressive overall record, she has guided the team to a 42-13 mark in conference play, which included a 9-1 record during the inaugural Pac-12 season in 2018. With that mark, the Buffs became the first-ever regular season Pac-12 Lacrosse Champions.

Under Whidden's guidance, the Buffs have shown improvement each year. In the first four years of competition, the Buffs finished in the top four of the MPSF, which included a second place finish in 2018. Then in 2018, CU won the Pac-12 regular season championship. During the 2019 season, the Buffs recorded their third straight NCAA Tournament berth and advanced to the second round for the second straight year.

Under her leadership, several of players have earned numerous honors in the program's short six-year history, including Julia Lisella who was named the 2018 IWLCA Goalkeeper of the Year. Four of her athletes have combined for six IWLCA All-America honors. Sarah Brown and Lisella were the first two players to earn first team honors (2018); Brown was also a second team honoree in 2017.

Darby Kiernan was also a two-time All-American, earning second team honors in 2018 and third team honors in 2017. Paige Soenksen was the fourth Buff record the prestigious award as a member of the third team in 2017.

Additionally, Whidden's athletes have recorded 16 all-region and 30 all-conference honors, as well as 15 conference all-tournament selections. In six seasons, CU has earned 38 weekly conference awards. CU has also earned the Pac-12 Defender of the Year (Brown, 2018) and the Pac-12 Attacker of the Year (Miranda Stinson, 2019).

The Buffs broke into the national rankings in 2017 and have been a mainstay in the polls for the last three seasons. In 2017, the Buffs finished the season with a school record 16 wins. They advanced to the NCAA for the first time in the program's short history and were ranked as high as fourth in all three major polls.

CU went on to record a 14-6 mark in 2018 and achieved more success. The Buffs advanced to their second straight NCAA Tournament and won their first NCAA Tournament game with a 23-18 victory against Jacksonville. During the 2019 campaign, the Buffs recorded an 11-8 record, which included an 8-2 mark in Pac-12 play. They advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second time.

The Buffs have been a force at home, recording a 31-11 mark in Boulder. They were undefeated at home in 2017 (8-0) and were 8-1 in 2018. CU recorded 19 straight home wins from 2016-18, which is tied for the fifth in NCAA history.

Academically, the Buffs have performed well in the classroom. They have received the IWLCA Team Academic Honor Squad award for the last five years (they were not eligible in their first season). 14 of CU's athletes have been named to the IWLCA Academic Honor Roll for 19 overall selections. Numerous athletes have earned spots on the MPSF and Pac-12 Academic teams as well.

During the 2019 season, Whidden guided the Buffs to an 11-8 overall record, which included an 8-2 mark in Pac-12 play. CU finished second in conference play and was second at the Pac-12 Tournament. All eight losses came at the hands of ranked opponents. CU's defense ranked 23rd in the nation, allowing just 10.26 goals per game. The Buffs averaged 9.68 caused turnovers per game, the 32nd best mark in the NCAA. They ranked 11th overall in turnovers with just 13.68 per game.

In 2018, CU was solid on offense and defense. The Buffs were 26th in scoring offense (14.00) and held their opponents to 9.90 goals per game, which was 17th in the NCAA. In conference play, CU's 14.00 goals per game ranked second. Defensively, CU ranked second in save percentage (.482).

The Buffs won the inaugural regular season Pac-12 Championship with a 9-1 cord. Their only loss in league play was in overtime at Southern California (8-CU earned the top-seed in the Pac-12 Tournament, defeating Oregon 16-6 in the second round. The Buffs fell in the championship game to Stanford, after defeating the Cardinal twice during the regular season. CU's season continued as the Buffs earned an at-large bid to their second NCAA Tournament. The Buffs defeated Jacksonville 23-18 in the first round, which was CU's first ever tournament win, before Florida defeated the Buffs in the second round, 13-9. CU was again strong defensively in 2017, as well as offensively. The Buffs finished the campaign ranked third nationally in scoring defense (8.10) and were sixth in scoring margin (+6.35) and turnovers per game (13.95). The 16-4 mark for the season gave CU a .800 win percentage, which was tied for the eighth best in the NCAA.

The Buffs also recorded their first wins against ranked opponents during the campaign, which included a huge 11-10 overtime win against No. 9 Northwestern on Feb. 12 to open the season. CU went on to defeat three other ranked teams: No. 16 UMass (11-7), No. 14 Denver (14-3) and No. 6 Penn State (16-11).

The 2016 season was another big step in the right direction. CU won a then-school-record 13 games, going 13-5 overall and finishing third in the MPSF with a 7-2 conference mark. The Buffs reached the semifinals of the conference tournament, defeating Oregon 11-3 in the first round. All five losses during the season came to teams ranked in the top 10 nationally and the Buffaloes received votes in both the IWLCA and the Inside Lacrosse top-20 polls several times during the year.

Defense was again an emphasis for the Buffs, who ranked second in the MPSF and seventh nationally in scoring defense (7.00). They also were second in the MPSF and eighth in the nation in scoring margin (+5.61 goals per game). Offensively, CU ranked third in the MPSF and 14th in the country in scoring (12.61) and the team's .722 winning percentage was the 14th-best in the country.

Despite the excellent season on both ends of the field, CU was left out of the 26-team NCAA Tournament field. The Buffs faced six teams during the year that were selected to the post-season, including James Madison, which they defeated 15-14 in overtime on March 3.

Five Buffs were selected All-MPSF at the end of the season. Marie Moore, Darby Kiernan and Sarah Brown were first-team selections, while Johnna Fusco and Paige Soenksen were named to the second team. Moore and Brown were both second team all-region picks by the IWLCA.

In 2015, Colorado earned a No. 4 seed at the MPSF Tournament and defeated San Diego State 15-6 to advance to the semifinals for a second straight year. The Buffs dominated at home, posting a 6-2 record at Kittredge Field.

Prior to joining Colorado, Whidden was a major force at powerhouse Northwestern. After an astounding collegiate career, she returned to her alma mater as an assistant coach ahead of the 2009 season. Prior to the start of the 2012 season, she became the first to ever be promoted to the associate level. As a player and aide under Kelly Amonte Hiller, who is considered to be one of the nation's top coaches and recruiters, Whidden and Northwestern appeared in the NCAA title game seven times, winning six titles, including three as a player and three as a member of the staff.

After graduating from Northwestern with a bachelor's degree in radio, television and film in 2007, Whidden served as the head coach of the Wildcat Elite Club and the Wildcat Developmental Team for Amonte Sports. She also spent one season as an assistant coach for New Trier High School, helping the Trevians to the 2008 state championship.

She was also actively involved in Amonte Sports since her playing days at Northwestern, serving as a camp counselor as well as heading the development of New Wave lacrosse clinics for the organization and WomensLax.com, coordinating youth and high school clinics across the country. She also utilized her major, doing extensive work in video production for Amonte.

Primarily a defender during her collegiate career, she played in 72 games, including starts in 63 of a possible 64 her sophomore through senior years, all NCAA championship seasons. As a senior and team captain in 2007, she was an Inside Lacrosse third-team All-America selection when she was a key member of a defensive unit that allowed a NCAA-low 6.1 goals per game, with opponents scoring in double figures only twice. She played an important role on Northwestern's 2005, 2006 and 2007 national championship teams, scoring 14 goals, causing 44 turnovers and scooping up 101 ground balls. She earned four varsity letters and was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten team member.

Whidden was a four-year letter-winner in lacrosse at Ohio's Shaker Heights High, where she set a school record with 278 ground balls. She had 115 goals, 50 assists, 114 caused turnovers and 99 draw controls in her prep career. Whidden was a two-time All-America and first-team all-state selection, helping lead the Raiders to two state championships and four consecutive seasons of undefeated conference play. As a senior, she was the team captain and was named the Northeast Ohio Defender of the Year. Whidden also played goalie for the Ohio Flames ice hockey club team, which finished second at nationals in 2002, and lettered one year as a goalie on OSHH's field hockey team.

Whidden married Nick Whidden in 2017. The couple resides in Boulder.
